Health Reform: What Non-Profit Employers Need to Know

Presenters:

- * John J. Sarno, Esq., Executive Director                      Employers Association of New Jersey (EANJ)
- * Tim Delaney, Esq., President & CEO                      National Council of Non-Profits

How would the different federal health reform proposals affect nonprofit employers. What are the particular concerns of nonprofits on this issue? How can nonprofits educate the media, the public and policy makers about our unique issues? This special briefing from the Center for Non-Profits in partnership with the National Council of Nonprofits was presented as a Webinar on August, 16th, 2009 and covered:

1. The Nonprofit Environment
2. Overall Goals of Health Reform
3. Overall Ways of Achieving Coverage (Public Plan, Insurance Exchange, Employer Mandate, Individual Mandate)
  - what they are
  - prospects for each
4. How many bills are there and where do they stand now?
  - Employer Mandate and what it means
  - Health Reform Financing
5. Special Concerns of Nonprofit Employers
6. What's next?
  - Outlook for Congressional activity
  - Action steps for nonprofits?

About the Center for Non-Profits

The Center for Non-Profits is a charitable umbrella organization whose mission is to build the power of New Jersey's non-profit community by serving as the premier voice and comprehensive resource for and about our sector. For over 25 years, non-profits have turned to the Center for help, information and advocacy on charitable issues, to save valuable time and stretch scarce resources.

The Center's programs include:

- Advocacy on state and federal issues of importance to the non-profit community;
- Education and research regarding the non-profit sector;
- Promoting the value of the non-profit community to policy makers, media and the public;
- Legal and management assistance for non-profits;
- Newsletters and other publications;
- Workshops, roundtables and issues briefings;

- Publications and reference books
  - Member services, including access to cost-saving programs such as directors and officers liability insurance and volunteer insurance
